For the attention of Development Management

Dear Sir,

The Management of Extractive Waste (Scotland) Regulations 2010
Dalwhinnie Quarry, Dalwhinnie

I have enclosed a completed Extractive Waste Management Plan for Dalwhinnie Quarry.

Dalwhinnie Quarry extracts a metamorphic 'quartzose psammite' of Dalradian (Precambrian) age. The proposed expansion of the quarry will result in new landscaped perimeter screening bunds being formed at the North, South, East and West of the extraction area. The material in these bunds will be used for restoration of the quarry. The overburden and topsoil which has previously been stripped from the quarry site which is located in screening bunds surrounding the existing quarry will be integrated into the new perimeter bunds and will be used for restoration.

I request confirmation that the requirements of the Management of Extractive Waste (Scotland) Regulations 2010 can be waived for the soil stripped from the quarry footprint, as described in Paragraph 5 (6) (b) and Paragraph 8 (b) of the 2010 regulations.

Please contact the undersigned if you require any further information

Yours Sincerely

Gordon Williamson
