

Carrbridge

During the public engagement process it was found that after low level walking, off-road cycling is the most popular activity and there is demand for improved opportunities, particularly linking communities with off-road cycling routes. The Sustrans route is in need of work due to fallen trees and mud. There are a number of issues with bridges, some in disrepair and some that have disappeared completely. There is some concern over the re-routing of the riverside path and demand for it to be more formalised. There is some demand to improve access to the Baddengorm and Tolquhonie woods.

The most popular paths identified were the walks in Ellan Woods (70%), the Sustrans Route (65%), the River path to Ellan Bridge and Tolquhonie Wood (both identified by 51% of respondents) and the Baddengorm Woods (46%).

All activities were reasonably popular in the area, low level walking was by far the most popular activity followed by cycling off-road. Most people doing activities did so to keep fit and healthy and equally to enjoy the countryside and a reasonable number did so to get to work or school. There was a reasonably high demand for better opportunities for low level walking and for off-road cycling and a comparatively high demand for better opportunities for wheelchairs.
