How HES supports your community

Heritage isn't only about historic buildings, it's also about the people that give those places meaning.

Support for community groups

Whether you're a community group just beginning your journey or looking to strengthen an established project, the right guidance can make all the difference.

Community group resources

Helpful resources if you are in the early stages of setting up a community group.

Toolkits and other sources of support

A compilation of resources to help groups or individuals get the most out of their local heritage.

Community planning and placemaking

Getting involved with planning and placemaking helps communities be at the heart of decisions made about their local areas.

Community ownership and empowerment

Across Scotland, community ownership is becoming an important tool for regeneration, sustainability, and social wellbeing.

Community funding

Find out where to start when applying for grants and funding to support your community group or project.

Heritage Fund

Calling all volunteer-involving heritage organisations in Scotland!

Make Your Mark is a campaign to increase the number and diversity of heritage volunteers in Scotland. We have 100+ member organisations across Scotland.

The campaign is FREE to join, and gives you access to:

- A peer-to-peer heritage volunteer organisers network
- Inclusive volunteering best practice and resources
- Events focussing on removing barriers to volunteering
- A volunteer advertising service
