

Supported by SFRS

SCOTTISH
FIRE AND RESCUE SERVICE

Working together for a safer Scotland

Tread Lightly in the Park

Barbecue safely this summer

If you are planning a barbecue with your picnic:

Checklist

Follow all on site signs and advice from rangers and don't have a barbecue if there is a high fire risk.

If it is safe to have a barbecue place foil trays on a solid, fire resistant surface such as stones, sand or shingle.

Make sure barbecue is fully put out with water.

When you have finished take your barbecue home and dispose of it safely.

KNOW THE CODE
BEFORE YOU GO

outdooraccess-scotland.com

www.cairngorms.co.uk

Cairngorms
NATIONAL PARK
Pàirc Nàiseanta a' Mhonaigh Ruaidh